

The following letter is a response letter that was written by an Attorney after listening to the CD; 501 c3's a non profit organization. I find this to be a powerful statement of one attorney about another attorney's research.

March 3, 2006

Dear Mark Robanske

Enclosed is your CD--thanks for letting me listen to it. This is the same thing I've stated for years. A 501(Cx3) organization is allowing total control of their affairs in the governments hands.

Do we give for a tax deduction? or do we give because it is the Lords? Is not the Lord in control of all things? He should be, if not. The problem with the so called church today is they are into buildings, numbers, etc. instead of where they should be.

If you review the tax code governing a 501 (C) (3) association the IRS has certain guidelines of what one can expound from the pulpit. You would be surprised if you read it. Its Catholic dogma all over again.

I'd rather be a door keeper in the house of my Lord, then dwell in the tents of wickedness.

Your friend in Christ,

Roger Castelda

Attorney at Law
Tonasket Washington

NOTE: This letter has been re-typed because the original was hand written and very difficult to read. It comes to you with the permission of Attorney Castelda.